Mayor will lead fight against crime

The Mayor of Altona, Cr.
Pat Lynch, told the Star this week he would do everything he could to see that the Chief

Secretary's Department placed money on estimates for the recently approved Altona North Police Station.

'GANG WAR' REPORTS

The statement by Cr. Lynch followed reports last week of "gang war" in Borrack Square,
Altona North,
between two groups, the "Devil's Invaders" from Williamstown and the "Borrack Boys"
from Altona North.

Cr. Lynch said
the deputation would probably include himself and District Members of Parliament, Mr.
Alex Knight, MLC,
and Mr. W. H.
Floyd, MLC.

Commenting on the recent spate of violent times in the Altona North area, Cr. Lynch said council would definitely organise a deputation to the State government at its meeting, this week.

"It's just not good

Mr. Floyd

Cr. Lynch

enough that a place with 30,000 people should have to rely on a small police station with only three men to man it," Cr.
Lynch said.

"We have sent many letters to the Chief Secretary's Department and the station for Altona North, which will be open for 24 hours, has been approved.

"But no money has yet been set aside for it.

"Other areas have probably sneaked in before us," said Cr. Lynch.

Cr. Lynch said he had attended a presentation night at Altona North High School recently, and had noticed that a beautiful feature mural at the front of the school's new assembly hall had been smashed by vandals.

"And only last week, a young man whom I know personally, was shot in the hand during a violent incident in Borrack Square," he said.

Cr. Lynch said there had been a spate of break-ings and thefts all over Altona and last week his son had lost a pair of jeans and a shirt when they were stolen from the clothes line.

"As far as this violence goes," said Cr. Lynch, "we believe these gangs which have been visiting Borrack Square are motor-bike gangs from other suburbs.

"And until the area gets police 24 hours a day,
these outsiders will continue to invade the area.

"We expected work to commence on the new station 12 months ago, but still nothing has been done.

"We are not out in the wild west, and it is high time that the police situation was updated," said
Cr. Lynch.

The Minister for Public Works, Mr. Byrne,
recently told Mr. Alex Knight, MLC (Melbourne West) approval had been given for the establishment of both a divisional headquarters and a police station at Altona North.

Mr. Byrne said it was not known when work would start on the station.

Daylight theft from home

Thieves removed two tiles from the roof of a house in Civic Pde., in broad daylight, last Friday, before entering the house through a manhole over the bathroom and ransacking three bedrooms.

Mrs. Gloria Green, shop assistant, of 109 Civic Parade, told Altona police it appeared that only clothing had been stolen by the thieves, who entered the house between 9 a.m.
and 5.45 p.m.
Mrs. Green said the thieves had climbed out of a window near the bathroom to leave the house.

An axe that was normally left in a shed at the rear of the house was found at the rear door when Mrs. Green returned to the house from work.
Altona police are investigating.

This little toddler is finding it hard reaching high places. One day she might be reaching high places scholastically thanks to the Altona Primary School's new library. In the meantime she has a quick "getting to know you" chat with the school's principal and his wife, Mr.
and Mrs. Peter Treyvaud. The occasion was the opening of the library by the director of primary education,
Mr. R. Row.

Beach subsidy

Altona Council has succeeded in its bid to obtain subsidy from the State Government for the clearing of seaweed from the foreshore.

Mr. A. W. Knight, MLC (Labor, Melbourne West), was told in the Legislative Council last week the amount allocated would be $5400.

Mr. Knight was told also that if the amount allocated was not sufficient, consideration would be given to a request for further financial assistance
if the request was lodged promptly.

Requesting the subsidy,
Mr. Knight said an unusual growth of seaweed had caused a great accumulation on the beach, with resultant stench and paint problems to house owners in the area.

Altona Council has decided to write to the Minister for Local Government, Mr. Hunt, seeking storm relief.

A film every smoker should see

The Anti-cancer Council has available a film starring Richard Boone called The Mark Waters Story.

It is the true story of a journalist, written after doctors had told him he had only a year left to live because of lung cancer.

In writing his story, Mark Waters wrote that it could apply to thousands, even millions of other men in this world.

Of every 20 who smoke, he said, one will die from lung cancer in a vicious game of smoker's "Russian Roulette".

Mark Waters was a loser at this game, and his story tells of the consequences.

A programme for a screening of the film can be obtained from the Anti-Cancer Council in Albert Street, East Melbourne.

Altona primary school has waited 61 years for its library.

And last week it finally got it.

A spanking new, $14,000 timber library, now the pride of the school and of its retiring principal, Mr. Peter Treyvaud, who has waited 15 years to see its realisation.

The library was officially opened by the director of primary education, Mr. R. Row.

Mr. Row told the pupils, teachers and parents at the presentation that primary education and the time spent in primary schools was possibly more important than that spent in high schools.

This was because in primary schools the basic attitudes of study habits were formed and this carried the pupil through the remaining school years.

He said that it was most important for the library to be separate from the school, and that, apart from other considerations, it prepared the children in their studies and helped them to be more independent.

The new library has 12,000 books.

The school has had a classroom library since February 1961.

This held 7000 books.

'THE VEHICLE' GETS INTO TOP GEAR

Altona pop group, The Vehicle, top scored in the heat of 'Kevin Dennis New Faces' on Channel Nine last Sunday night.

Judges, Mike Dyer and former Seeker, Athol Guy, awarded the group, 75 and 77 giving them a top score of 152 points.

The Vehicle dead-heated for first place with a female singer, and stands a good chance of making the finals of the talent quest.

Local members of the four-piece group are Peter Fortune of Railway Street, Vince Camilleri of Webb Street, and Adrian Scott of Seaholme.

The group's bass guitarist is from Pascoe Vale.

The group entered the competition, hopeful that the television appearance would secure a few more bookings at Western Suburbs hotels and social functions.

An Altona North man had sent a letter of apology to the court through Mobile Traffic Squad police, Sunshine Court was told last week.

The man, Samuel McMeekon, of Blackshaws Road, Altona North, was fined $25 and his probationary driving licence was cancelled.

Mobile Traffic Squad, McMeekon had said when apprehended that he did not drive dangerously. They handed to Mr. L. Griffin, SM, a document they said was a letter of apology to the court from McMeekon.

It was a 23 mph limit area and the road had been greasy and slippery, they said.

Watch those kids

With the advent of the school holidays, the Victorian Railways commissioners have warned of the dangers of allowing children to play near railway lines or under railway bridges.

The commissioners said today that many children had a genuine curiosity about railways and equipment used in running trains.

But they added that this led youngsters to putting themselves in danger when wandering on Railway property.

The commissioners say that unfortunately, there is a small number of children who damage or interfere with equipment, trespass on lines and climb ends of platforms.

They say this behavior, apart from risk of injury, leads to costly repairs and delays, with subsequent children's court prosecutions causing grief to parents.

They have urged parents to keep their children away from railway lines and have warned that any found trespassing will be dealt with strongly.

Anyone for tattoo?

By Mariann Byron

At first glance, Mrs. Bev. Robinson, 29 looks like any other attractive young woman.

It's only when she wears a revealing dress you notice that almost her entire body is covered by tattoos.

Bev, who lives in Paproth Grove, Altona with her husband Dan and four young children, had herself tattooed at 19.

Her family was horrified.

But Bev had a serious purpose in mind when she decided to get her skin decorated — she wanted to make a lot of money.

As "Cindy Ray", she toured Adelaide, Sydney, Tasmania and New Zealand giving shows at hundreds of dollars a time.

Now she runs a tattooing shop in Railway Crescent, Williamstown Beach, with her husband, Dan.

Dan, who designed all the patterns they use, taught her the art of tattooing.

He mixes raw pigments for coloring and has the secret recipe for this.

Five machines are used to apply these on the skin, a painful experience for most people.

But pain is not a deterrent and many young men flock to the shop regularly to get another eagle or dragon on their arms. Each pattern takes about 20 minutes to apply.

NOT TRANSFERS

Bev still smiles about the time she was showing her tattoos at the Hobart Regatta and the police arrested her.

"They were convinced my tattoos were transfers and said I was getting money under false pretences" she said.

"They even had a go at scrubbing it off with soap, water and a nail brush," she said.

Bev's work has a lot of funny moments.

"I had a fellow here once, who had a red scar over one eye.

"He asked for a similar mark over the other eye to make it look even."

"Then some men have pictures of naked women tattooed on their skin and they come in to get them clothed with a fresh tattoo, otherwise their wives get mad."

The shop is clean with samples of patterns stuck on the wall.

Customers have to give proof of age, because it's an offence to tattoo anybody under 18.

When Bev goes to the beach, she wears an outfit which covers her from top to toe.

TO HIDE

She dons four pairs of stockings when she walks down the street to hide the marks on her legs.

She says otherwise her tattoos shock people.

The price of a tattooed picture ranges from $1 to $200.

But it costs only 20 cents to get your name done and sailors pay 40 cents to get their blood group tattooed on their arm.

Bev said tattooing was an ancient art practiced by the ancient Egyptians and it was also known by Maoris before the whites went to New Zealand.

She said there are only about seven professional tattoo artists in Melbourne and warned that it's dangerous to go to unlicensed operators.

"They can infect the skin," she said.

An American book, Tattoo '71 lists some strange messages people choose to carry on their skin permanently.

An American housewife has "Death Before

Dishwashing" and a wine waiter sports a full wine list tattooed on his chest which he uncovers to each customer.

Bev has appeared on many TV shows, including The Guessing Game, Tell the Truth and Four Corners.

She has a mischievous sense of humor and when asked on a show how she was going to find a husband she replied:

"I guess I'll just have to find a millionaire art lover."

Bev has mixed feelings about the art of tattooing.

"Sometimes a policeman says to me, all people with tattoos are larrikins.

"So I say to him, in that case King Frederick IX of Denmark was a larrikin. Because he had tattoos and so have a lot of celebrities, including Sean Connery (James Bond) and the rock singer, the late Janis Joplin.

"After all, it's only a bit of color in the skin. It doesn't change what a person is like inside," she said.

When asked if she would get herself tattooed if she had a choice again, she sighed;

"Oh, Lord no. I wouldn't get any girl tattooed either. No matter how much she pleaded . . ."

Taxi Approval

The Administrator of Road Transport in Tasmania, Mr. A. G. Pybus, has ruled that the HQ Holden properly equipped to ensure passenger comfort will be licensed to carry five passengers.

He made this statement after inspecting an HQ Holden fitted with the factory designed taxi option. After his inspection, Mr. Pybus issued the following statement:

"Today I examined a new HQ Holden sedan equipped with a GMH designed taxi pack. This is the first time that I have been shown a fully equipped unit provided by special order for taxi operation. "After examining this vehicle I have decided that five-passenger licences can be issued for regular HQ Holdens provided that these taxis are properly equipped to ensure passenger comfort. "Previous units submitted for inspection by transport department inspectors were not so equipped. These units were therefore licensed for carrying fewer passengers."

GM equipment in record-breaker

Flying a twin engine Piper Navajo aircraft with a General Motors Carousel IV automatic inertial navigation system, Captain Elgen M. Long last Friday completed the world's first solo circumnavigation flight over the poles.

Long's 28-day flight took him over the North Pole, the Greenwich Meridian, the South Pole, and the International Dateline.

He landed on the world's seven continents and established eight world records.

The navigation system, built and provided by General Motors' Delco Electronics Division, issued

Captain Long with the following information:

- Exact position in latitude and longitude instantaneously, distance and time to go to the next way point or landing point, track angle of the flight path, ground speed, aircraft heading, aircraft drift angle, wind speed and direction, cross-track distance from desired course, track angle error, desired track.

Connected to the autopilot, the inertial navigator automatically steered Captain Long's Piper Navajo aircraft.

The inertial navigation system is self-contained and completely independent of outside magnetic, radio or radar aids.

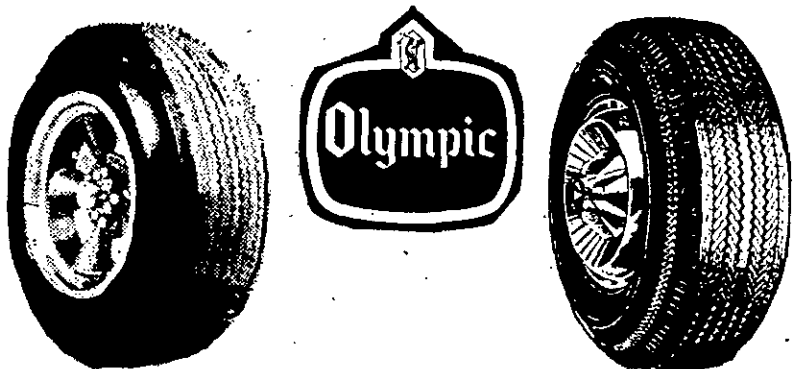

It is the same system that is standard equipment aboard the Boeing 747 superjet, and is being flown by 30 airlines throughout the world.

The Carousel IV system is similar to the guidance and navigation systems General Motors' Delco Electronics Division built for the Apollo Command and Lunar Modules.

● Captain Elgen M. Long at the controls of the twin-engine Piper Navajo aircraft in which he polar circumnavigated the world. The insert shows the flight navigation system built and provided by General Motors' Delco Electronics Division.

The space-age pioneer doesn't have to toil his way through the bush like his forefathers — he carves a new way of living in the fast growing community of Australia's biggest Satellite City. His goal: to get the best of both worlds — relaxed country living with the State's capital just a short, fast drive away... an ultra-modern home for his woman and wide open spaces for his children to The Westmelton pioneers have the whole world at their fingertips! be a holiday! The Exford Weir (which abuts Westmelton's southern boundary, is only a few miles away, and an ideal spot for a family picnic.

The fishermen will always be able to find a quiet place to cast a line, and the Weir is also a favorite with those who enjoy speed-boating and water-skiing. There is no need to travel miles and miles to "get away from it all" — it's all here at Melton.

AUSTRALIA'S BIGGEST SATELLITE CITY MOVES AHEAD OF SCHEDULE!

It is less than eighteen months since the opening of Stage 1, when 148 home sites were released to buyers — and now plans for stage 3 are before the council for approval. General Manager of West-melton (Vic.) Pty. Ltd., Mr. Ian McIntosh, said: "The fantastic success in selling homes and land in the first stages of the development of Westmelton has accelerated the company's planning of the satellite city. Plans for stage 3, are before the council for approval. Stage 3 will consist of over 300 homes extending from along Westmelton Drive to Bulmans Lane," Mr. McIntosh said.

'Gun war' blasts Borrack Square

One man was shot in Borrack Square last week when blasts from a shotgun and rifle raked a North Altona milkbar.

The incident — sparked off by friction between two mobs — has resulted in three arrests so far and police say they're looking for another two men.

Footscray detectives say used to injure the man there was an argument in the milkbar between two groups of people.

One group left and later returned in a car.

Seconds later a hail of bullets flew as shotgun and rifle fire shattered the weekend silence.

One bullet — shot through the milkbar window — hit a man in the hand.

Police say the weapon

Detectives have since arrested two men and they have told the Star they are looking for two more.

The arrested men have been charged with various serious offences including assault with grievous bodily harm and attempting to incite a riot.

Big crowd at ASR picnic

A record crowd of 230 attended Australian Synthetic Rubber Company's social club picnic races at Maddingley Reserve, Bacchus Marsh on Sunday.

State league soccer player, Barry Webb won the ASR Gift, run over 75 yards from Peter Smith and Bill Peacock.

Barry, from Williamstown, plays soccer for Elwood Austria.

The men's open 75 yards was won by Kelvin Heaton of Purnell St., Altona and the ladies' 75 yards was a dead heat between Angela Morley of Hopper's Crossing and Jenny Brewis of Sunshine.

The ladies' rolling pin throwing contest was won by Val Coleman.

After the races, Herbie Miller played the role of Santa and Christmas gifts were given to the children of social club members.

Raffle raises $1,000 for hospital

The giant Christmas stocking raffle, conducted by the Altona District Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, has raised $1000 for hospital funds.

The contents of the stocking valued at more than $170, were all donated by traders throughout the district of Altona. This is the third successive year the business people have so generously supported this now annual fund raising activity.

At a pleasant dinner dance function at Koorin-gal Golf Club on December 3, the winning ticket was drawn from a barrel by Cr. Ian Stewart. It was ticket number 1270, held by Mrs. J. Turner, 262 Millers Road, Altona North.

During the evening auxiliary presented, Mrs. Eden Heriot presented a cheque for the proceeds of the raffle, $1000, to Mr. Bob Stringer, president of the hospital board of management.

Other lucky efforts conducted on the night were won by Mrs. Joyce Hyde and Mr. Cruikshank who was last year's winner of the stocking.

In your time — A GUIDE TO LEISURE

By PETER VAUGHAN

With Christmas only a few weeks away there are a number of new record releases which would readily make an ideal gift.

Two of those available I have especially chosen, one because it is so good that you should be hinting in the right places to have it amongst the gifts you receive, the other being of such good value as to represent an excellent but relatively inexpensive present for someone who will appreciate it.

Cat Stevens' third record Teaser and the Firecat is to put it mildly, brilliant.

This 23-year-old English songwriter, singer and musician has brought forth a record which is a logical progression from his Tea for the Tillerman LP which was received so well.

On this present album Stevens continually expresses in very poetic lyrics visions of happiness and optimism.

As an example of this, one only has to take the track from the album that has become a hit success, Peace Train, in which Stevens talks of hope and triumph in the not too distant future.

But whichever track one does listen to, be it the super-optimistic Moonshadow, the poetic Morning Has Broken or the triumphal Changes IV, one gets the distinct feeling that there is artistry in abundance throughout the whole record.

If Cat Stevens keeps producing work of such calibre he will become a serious rival to Donovan who at the moment is second to none in this field of music.

The local Melbourne group Spectrum have put out a two record set entitled Milesago which will prove to be a good follow-up to their recent single success I'll be Gone.

The tracks move from heavy to soft rock with excellent playing from Les Neale on piano and organ, Ray Arnott on drums and Bill Putt on bass guitar.

All the lyrics except one track are by lead vocal Michael Rudd and he has encompassed many moods from the dynamic, to the sarcastic and on to the meditative, all of which are enhanced by very good singing throughout.

In fact a number of titles prove to be very interesting. These include What The World Needs (Is A New Pair Of Socks), Virgin's Tale and Mama, Did Jesus Wear Make-Up?

And if that doesn't arouse your interest then just what will?

SUMMARY: Cat Stevens Teaser And The Firecat, Island Records, SIL 934323, $5.95. Spectrum Milesago, EMI records, SHDW 50/51-D, $8.50.

No one you loved was by your side

But never a day begins or ends,
Without I think of you,
A memory, a tear,
Thought sincere,
I will always love you.

Then pray for wind to change

An Altona resident has written to the Star, lamenting the city's pollution.

Mr. S. Currow says all Altona residents can pray for a direction change in the prevailing wind. He writes.

After the incident of Friday, November 19, of the more severe than usual pollution of the atmosphere at Altona, when 700 children and some teaching staff were severely affected by a sulphurous stench discharged from the petrochemical complex; I am moved to write this letter deploring the severe degradation of the atmospheric conditions of an area in which the writer has resided for 46 years.

Until 10 years ago, Altona was a good clean healthy seaside town, where the very infrequent nuisance was perhaps only seaweed on the beach front which decayed and caused a smell for a couple of weeks; this was a natural phenomena of weed growth which we could clean up and control as desired.

This is evidently not so with man made pollution, which the people of Altona have to endure whenever there is a north or north-west wind carrying one type of stench or another over the town.

All this nuisance is increasing all the time, despite continuous dire threats to take action against the culprits.

Until five years ago, the writer had never suffered from any type of respiratory complaint whatever; during the past five years, he has suffered four acute attacks of bronchial asthma which is steadily getting worse with each attack.

The greatest worry confronting people exposed to this pollution of the atmosphere is what is happening to the health of themselves and their growing children, which can be slowly deteriorating over a considerable period of time, into chronic respiratory ailments which can effect their health throughout their entire life span.

How can one measure the value of a Community's health in terms of piffing fines which seem to have been the measure on the few occasions firms have been fined for pollution offences.

If people in the Altona area are to be continuously subjected to this health menace, the firms responsible should be compelled to equip all the homes in the effected area with air conditioning units to ensure that the occupants will be able to breathe clean air and not awaken to a house reeking with an odour which has been polluting the atmosphere, even whilst they sleep.

The only alleviating feature people of Altona can pray for at any time is that by some Meteorological phenomena, the prevailing winds change to South, South West or South East, which are the only direction of winds which do not carry the pollution fumes throughout the town.

Newport chasing a big score

Newport first eleven is chasing a formidable score of 9/226 (dec.) after Mur-rumbeena won the toss and elected to bat in near perfect conditions on Saturday.

Newport's fieldsmen let their bowlers down badly in this innings as a dozen chances went begging.

Successful trundlers for the locals were S. Reiger (4/27), R. Nicholson (3/30), W. Stevenson (1/35) and J. Fowler (1/48).

With a place in the four a possibility if they win, Newport's batsmen given similar conditions should bring home the bacon next week.

Newport seconds collapsed like a pack of cards after being given first use of a fair wicket at Mur-rumbeena.

In Newport's modest first innings tally of 103, D. Gregory (18), R. Colvin (17), G. Mologousis (16) and D. Roberts (17 n.o.).

All got starts but could not go on with the job of building up the innings after the other batsmen had failed.

Newport's bowlers will need to produce something extra next week, as the locals had 2 for 63 on the board at stumps, with G. Mologousis completing a

Altona set for first points

After having failed to gain a point so far this season, Altona Cricket Club's A grade side seems set to take first innings points against Telegraph at the Domain Oval.

After losing the toss, Altona were sent in to bat on what looked to be a good batting wicket.

But the third over saw Thomas dismissed with the score at five.

Forrester joined Hughes and this pair took the score to a very respectable 62 before Hughes (24) was bowled.

Garde came to the crease, and a further 25 runs were added before Forrester was stumped for 44 when the score was 87. Hansen joined Garde, but failed to get a start and was caught.

Patton and Garde settled down and looked to be back on top when Garde mis-timed a ball and was out caught for a well-made 20.

Altona was again in trouble when Page was dismissed three balls later with the score at 91.

Oram went in and he and Patton set about consolidating the position, only to see Patton dismissed some five runs later.

Michael and Oram added a further 15 runs before Michael was dismissed.

With Oram holding up his end, Dare was next to go, leaving Altona 9/142 with Healy the only remaining bat.

He and Oram batted very intelligently, scoring valuable runs before Oram was out caught with the total score at 154.

With 45 minutes of playing time left, Altona were keen to pick up a few quick wickets.

Bob Dare opened the bowling for Altona and with his first ball had the opening batsman bowled, putting Altona into a very commanding position.

With his third ball he was unlucky not to have picked up another wicket when a very confident appeal for lbw was turned down.

With Telegraph 1/5, a smart return from Healy saw keeper Hughes whip the balls off to give Altona a second wicket from a run out.

With Hansen also bowling very tightly, Telegraph were 2/5 after four overs.

Hansen took himself out of the attack and young Neville Healey was brought on to bowl.

His first over was right on line and he picked up yet another wicket.

With 30 minutes of play left, Altona were fielding very keenly and giving their bowlers much deserved support.

After having bowled six overs, Dare was rested and Hansen came back into the attack.

With a number of runs scored since the third wicket fell, Altona were again looking for a wicket.

Healey continued with tight bowling and when rested from the attack, he had the excellent figures of 1/4.

In Hansen's next over, he dismissed the fourth batsman when Garde snapped up an excellent catch in the gully.

With 10 minutes of play left, Hansen continued to change his bowlers and brought Dare and Page on to bowl.

Dare had immediate success when he trapped another batsman lbw, leaving the score at 5/38.

Page bowled the final over of the day and was unlucky not to have captured a wicket with his second ball, leaving Telegraph 5/42 at stumps.

The other two members of the squad are Alan Jones from Yarraville and Peter Onofretchok from Spotswood.

They played for Altona during the winter season.

The secretary of the tennis club Mr. Geoff Wood leaves for a month on Saturday.

He is to travel to Perth, Sydney and Hobart working on a ship.

The Xmas hamper raffle is to be drawn next Sunday afternoon.

Any people with raffle books are to hand them in by Saturday to Wayne Thomas — who will be in attendance at the courts on Saturday afternoon.

CRICKET

Altona "C" does well on first day

Altona won the toss and decided to bat on the excellent wicket and under good conditions.

Bibby and Joyce opened and had scored 14 runs before Joyce was caught.

Evans joined Bibby in a sound partnership which took the score to 35 before Evans was yorked.

He was followed in quick succession by Gordon Wilson and Bibby.

At 4 for 39 Altona were in trouble.

The loss of quick wickets early has been evident over past games and must be overcome if Altona's position is to be improved.

Graeme Hosken and Frank Kirk set about relieving the situation and gradually got on top of the bowling in an excellent partnership which added 54 runs before Kirk was caught behind for 31.

David Hitchcock joined Hosken and was soon into stride.

This pair really pushed the score along until Hosken was caught and bowled for a good 52 at 152.

Hitchcock tried to continue the scoring rate but at 166 both he and Gordon were dismissed.

Hitchcock's innings of 41 was well compiled.

Altona were finally dismissed for 173 — a good recovery.

Kensington United began their first innings with an hour's play remaining, and after six overs had 26 runs on the board.

Hitchcock was brought into the attack at this point and immediately secured the first wicket.

This was followed without addition by two wickets to Jobson, and, at 3 for 30, Altona were right on top.

Jobson and Hitchcock continued to bowl well but could not break through.

At stumps United had improved their position to be 3 for 63.

Austcare appeal for blankets

Austcare has launched a district-wide appeal to provide blankets for refugees.

An Austcare official told the Star that blanket appeals were vitally important to the welfare of the sick and dying refugees.

He added that every contribution could well determine the future of any one of the refugees.

It is hoped, he said, to collect over one million blankets before the Indian winter.

He said the district had an opportunity to make a substantial contribution which could well mean the difference between life and death.

Parcels can be forwarded free of charge to:

In a final fraught with tension, Altona failed in their bid to gain the Golden Bowler trophy which the previous year was won by Footscray City.

Altona — with T. Reid, Skipper, T. Bourke second, and J. Rose as leader — lost to a rink representing the Williamstown Bowling Club and skippered by A. Butterworth, with A. Dixon and A. Kerss.

The score was 7 to 12. Ironically, A. Butterworth, an Altona Bowling Club member, substituted for the Williamstown skipper for the entire tournament.

With Altona trailing at the start, the sixth end found the rinks level at 5 all. However, Williamstown, playing with great determination and despite the skill shown by the Altona rink, had increased their score 10 to 7.

Skipper Theo Reid, faced with three shots down on what could have been the final end, played a perfectly placed drive to force the kitty out of bounds, to keep Altona's hopes alive.

But Williamstown on the final end gained a further two shots to win the coveted trophy.

PENNANT RESULTS

A 3, playing away to Rosamond, were soundly defeated 74-128. A win at this time would have kept their championship hopes alive.

With only seven games remaining, the task becomes difficult. Rink results: S. Carter 19-37; J. Fisher 15-29; L. F. Neilson 20-32; T. Reid 2-30.

Reserve 2, at home, defeated Williamstown 106-87. A striking feature of this match was that W.

Crofts (skipper) with J. Carr, R. Allen and J. Rose, won 15 ends out of 25 and still went down by six shots 23-69.

Other results: W. Inglis 30-18; A. Butterworth 23-17; H. Deacon 30-23.

B 4, meeting Fitzroy, lost 95-101.

Highest winning rink C. McDonald (skipper) with N. Richardson, W. Deegan,

C. Marshall 30-21.

Other results R. Watson 25-23; N. Grant 28-24; S. Pitcher 12-33.
